ENFORCEMENT ADVISORY

ADVISORY ON REFERRALS FOR POTENTIAL CRIMINAL ENFORCEMENT

On May 9, 2025, the President issued Executive Order 14294 (“E.O.”), titled Fighting Overcriminalization in Federal Regulations. 90 FR 20363 (published May 14, 2025). Section 7 of E.O. 14294 provides that within 45 days of the order, and in consultation with the Attorney General, each agency should publish guidance in the Federal Register describing its plan to address criminally liable regulatory offenses, including by considering certain factors when deciding whether to refer alleged violations of criminal regulatory offenses to the Department of Justice. The E.O. defines a criminal regulatory offense to mean “a Federal regulation that is enforceable by a criminal penalty.”

In furtherance of the E.O., the Division of Enforcement (“DOE”), as the Division of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “Commission”) responsible for making referrals to the Department of Justice, is publishing this Advisory to announce the framework to be followed when DOE staff considers whether to refer potential violations of criminal regulatory offenses to the Department of Justice.

DOE separately advises the public that the E.O. requires that, by May 9, 2026, the Commission, in consultation with the Attorney General, will provide to the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (“OMB”) a report containing: (1) a list of all criminal regulatory offenses enforceable by Commission or the Department of Justice (“DOJ”); and (2) for each such criminal regulatory offense, the range of potential criminal penalties for a violation and the applicable mens rea standard<sup>1</sup> for the criminal regulatory offense.

This Advisory also announces a general policy, subject to appropriate exceptions and to the extent consistent with law, that when DOE staff is deciding whether to refer alleged violations of criminal regulatory offenses<sup>2</sup> to DOJ, DOE staff should consider, among other factors:

- The harm or risk of harm, pecuniary or otherwise, caused by the potential offense;

<sup>1</sup> “Mens rea” means the state of mind that by law must be proven to convict a particular defendant of a particular crime. E.O. 14294, sec. 3(c).

<sup>2</sup> See section 9 of the Commodity Exchange Act (“CEA”), 7 U.S.C. 13, which, among other things, makes it a felony to willfully violate any rule or regulation promulgated under the CEA. Section 9(a)(5) of the CEA, 7 U.S.C. 13(a)(5).

- The potential gain to the putative defendant that could result from the offense;
- Whether the putative defendant held specialized knowledge, expertise, or was licensed in an industry related to the rule or regulation at issue;
- Evidence, if any is available, of the putative defendant's general awareness of the unlawfulness of his conduct as well as his knowledge or lack thereof of the regulation at issue;
- Whether the putative defendant is a recidivist or has otherwise engaged in a pattern of misconduct; and
- Whether the involvement of the Department of Justice will provide additional meaningful protection to participants in the derivatives markets.

This general policy is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Nothing in this Advisory is intended to waive any pre-decisional or other privileges that may apply to the Commission's or DOE's deliberations or decision making regarding potential enforcement actions or potential rulemaking.

Questions concerning this Advisory may be directed to Paul Hayeck, Acting Director, DOE, phayeck@cftc.gov.

Sincerely,
